Is the name given a wonder-HYDRANGEA PLANT.

DR. FRANZ GAUSWEIN. fully successful medicinal preparation, discovered and formulated 33 years ago, by the once celebrated physician and chemist, Dr. Franz Gauswein, of Weisbaden, Germany. The curative properties of "SEVEN BARKS" are extracted from the bark of a specially grown species of the Hydrangea plant -the bark of which, as botanists will tell you, grows in seven layers, each of different color and each possessing a distinctive medicinal value. It is the only plant known from which is extracted providence-given elements, which in combination produce a single panacea that is a sovereign remedy for most all ailments and diseases of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Nerves.

"SEVEN BARKS" was introduced in America in 1872 by Mr. Lyman Brown, of New York City, a chemist of national repute, who in the early '70's spent nearly a year in Weisbaden before he could secure the highly prized formula. Although "SEVEN BARKS" has never been advertised in newspapers, yet thousands of American families are never without a bottle, while hundreds of physicians and druggists are recommending and prescribing it. By this slow process of personal recommendation "SEVEN BARKS" is today one of the most popular and most successful remedies on the American market. The reader has no doubt heard of it.

The undersigned purchased the formula and sole right of distribution in the United States. He realizes that every family desiring continuous good health should always keep a supply on hand, therefore streamous efforts will be made to introduce it in every

A Brave Attack Upon Bank Robbers by St. George's Boys.

WANTED TO ROB A BANK.

As the half-past six o'clock train arrived at St. George on Monday evenof last week from Charleston Capt Blackard, the conductor, informed Mr. W. B. Raysor, the Southern's agent at St. Georges, that four suspicious looking characters had gotten off his train at Byrds, a co-incident which he deemed rather strange and which aroused his suspicion against the strangers as being burglars. And when this train arrived at Badham, a flag station two miles above St. Georges, the conductor's attention was against somewhat stirred to suspicion by the getting off of two men of the same type and suspicious as those who nad stopped at Byrds. The following account of what followed we clip from the Dorchester Eagle:

Upon arriving at Branchville, Mr. Geo. F. Lewis, agent at that place and resident of Saint George, was informed of the proceedings, and he at once telephoned down here to put the people on their guard. A telegraphic dispatch was also received by Mr. Raysor, and to a small portion of the citizens here the alarm was given, but the wonder is why more of us did not find out about the anticipated trouble before the thing was all over.

It seems that the facts were kept a secret in order to be more accurate in the trapping of the bandits. Consequently, nothing was done more than to frighten away the robbers by a few of our brave young men, Messrs Peter R. Stokes and J. O. Reed, Jr., having done most of the shooting. These two young fellows were accompanied by Chief of Police Minus and a colored man, but at the time of the trouble these latter two were in a different part of town, towards the depot, having seperated in order to be more ac tive in the detection of their victims. At half past one o'clock or there about, a shrill and peculiar sound like a whistle was heard, made by some one in the street coming up in the direction of the Bank and from east Main Street. Soon after this signals, Messrs Stokes and Reed, who were sitting on a box about the shop of Mr. D. G. Utsey, noticed four apparently neat and well-dressed men, satchel in hand, pass, coming from opposite direction from those who had given the signal, their purpose being to meet at the Bank. Upon their dsscovery, Mr. Stokes called out to halt! Instead of obeying the command, the men turned and in an instant opened fire upon these two young men, who were evidently surprised and who immediately returned the salute with buckshot from double barrel shot guns. Of course there was some wild and scarey shooting done, for being disturbed in their journey the robbers were evidently as fully surpresed as these two young men were. At any rate, the whole town was awakened by the terrible fusilade which took place, however it was not realized, only by the few who were informed of the looked for trouble, just what it all meant. Indeed it was a time of excitement for those acquainted with the situation. Nor did those boys for a moment realize the grave danger in which they had placed their lives-and they were acting in defence of the sleeping little town Orangeburg, S. C.

Orangeburg, S night-for which they deserve much ton weighers, and a statement giving of the robbers fell to the ground, but it could not be ascertained whether hurt or not. The few men in charge of the maneuvers were urgently advised that at least a dozen men should be placed on guard to watch for the robbers, but they thought differently and the results was as above stated. Of course these burglars knew not how many were after them, consequently they were soon very much disorganized and making tracks in various directions. One of the gang ran by the writer's home and made his escape in short order across a cotton field. The others scattered and lost no time in leaving town-althought that class of men are not given to running. In our opinion it was a severe suprise to parties on both sides, for if that gang of robbers had been on their guard some serious damage would have been done. That is their profession. It is very much regretted that the rascals were not captured, and we dare say that if the town is, so fortunate the next time as to be warned before hand, that more preparation will be made. Some folks seemed Fire Insurance Agent utterly surprised that the plans to capture the robbers were not more complete, and here is where they are wrong. Such things don't happen often in this community-and per-Also writes LIFE, ACCIDENT, and haps never in a small town like Saint HEALTH Insurance in the OLD and George, and the danger was insufficiently realized before hand. How easy it would have been to capture Office Corner Amelia and Pitthan if there had been any certainty connected to the matter. And O, how easy it is now that the trouble is all over, for men to make suggestions and wonder who thus and so had not been

We wish to state that these few men who sat and guarded the property and safety of the town, are worthy of the praise of every body and we regret very much that some serious to be laughed at.

Good Points

Chattanooga Plows have center draft and sloping landslide which makes it the lightest running Plow.

Beams and Points are fastened with two bolts, this means a saving of points. Plow share rests on standard and not on mold board, and consequently does not weaken the most expensive part of the Plow. The Plow handles are bolted to standard instead of mold board thereby making mold board less liable to break. Plow handles are supported by a 5-16 inch iron braces and not by the usual ‡ inch rod. The handles may be made high or low to suit the height of the plowman.

All connections are made by patent bolt head, which will neither allow a bolt to turn nor cause a casting to creak. Only one size plow bolt is used in the Chattanooga Plows. They
